Neos Networks’ Modern Slavery Statement (‘the Statement’) is responding to the requirements of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 (‘the Act’). This Statement is made pursuant to section 54(6) of the Act and constitutes Neos Networks’ slavery and human trafficking Statement for the financial year ending on 31 March 2022.

Neos Networks has zero tolerance of modern slavery in all its forms and has a responsibility to understand the risks within its own business and supply chain, ensuring ongoing management of those risks. We support and are fully committed to upholding the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, the aims of the UN Sustainable Development Goals, and the principles underpinning the UN Global Compact.
Direct workforce
Everyone that works for Neos Networks is formally based in the UK. As of 31 March 2022, we had 600 direct employees who work across a number of offices, depots and operational sites in the UK.

Given the nature of our business and operations, our workforce tends to be highly skilled with employment terms and conditions to match. At 31 March 2022, our employees had an average length of service of 6 years, 96% of our direct workers are on permanent contacts.

Contingent workforce
On 31 March 2022 we had a contingent labour force of 66 people. These are people who are not directly employed by the company but carry out work using our IT systems and/or on our premises as consultants, temporary agency workers and contractors.

Supply chain workforce
80% of Neos Networks spend through its supply chain is with our top 25 suppliers with 15 being over £5M each.

The nature of our business means that it is involved in several large infrastructure projects as well as operations at different stages during a given year – from pre-planning and design, to development, planning and operation. This means that the type and volume of goods and services we purchase can vary significantly, for example from small items of technical equipment to technology systems and on-site civils works across multiple sites facilitating a wide spectrum of annual spend.

We will continue to monitor our supply chain and will reassess policies annually to ensure that it is continuing to meet our organisational values.
Policies and standards

Neos Networks has a framework of policies and standards that provide the values base from which Neos Networks’ approach to ethical business and employment practices, and specifically human rights, is governed. Responsible employer ethos
Neos Networks have a well-established responsible employer ethos, which focuses on developing our workforce from within, limiting out-sourcing where possible, and creating an inclusive culture where employees are treated with fairness and respect.

Verification and vetting
We ensure that the right to work is evidenced for all workers in line with government requirements. We also set the expectation that contractors and staffing agencies are subject to the same standards, assigning business managers with responsibility to ensure they are satisfied that the required verification and vetting of workers has taken place.

Living Wage
Neos Networks is a Living Wage employer. Checks are carried out by payroll every month to ensure that we will remain compliant with our own voluntary commitment to paying the real Living Wage.

All supply chain workers that work regularly on our sites must also receive at least the real Living Wage rate. Whistleblowing channels exist for any supplier or contractor to contact us if they believe they should be receiving the Living Wage and are not.

Training and awareness raising
To ensure a high level of understanding of the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking in our supply chains and our business, we have provided webinars to the Business in FY22 and we have agreed with HR to include an induction course in FY23.

Our Supplier Charter includes a requirement that suppliers and contractors provide a channel for people to speak up if they suspect modern slavery or human rights abuses when working on behalf of Neos Networks.
Channels for speaking up

Individuals can speak up about incidents or suspected incidents of wrongdoing at Neos Networks through both internal and external ‘Speak Up’ whistleblowing channels, with reports able to be made anonymously through our externally hosted speak up channel, Safecall.
